DECISION ON MOVING ON 1

DECISION ON MOVING ON 1

The first decision on moving on is indicated on the student's transcript. It takes into account all the compulsory modules in the first year of training (except for placement modules). It is positive if: the number of compulsory modules not completed successfully is lower than or equal to the failure threshold calculated at the time of the intermediary review; the number of compulsory modules not completed successfully in vocational training is lower than or equal to the failure threshold calculated at the time of the intermediary review; all the fundamental modules have been completed successfully (except for one single fundamental module on the syllabus for the second semester). This module must be retaken during the following year.

INTERMEDIARY REVIEW

The intermediary review is a decision on moving up to the next year, which is indicated on the transcript. It takes into account all the compulsory modules in the first and second years of training (except for placement modules).

It is successful if: at least 90% of the compulsory modules have been completed successfully; at least 90% of the compulsory modules in vocational education have been completed successfully; no complementary module has been marked at less than 20; all the fundamental modules have been completed successfully. If the intermediary is successful, those complementary modules not completed successfully do not need to be re-taken and are not counted for future decisions of the class council.

DECISION ON MOVING ON 2

The second decision on moving on is indicated on the transcript. It takes into account all the compulsory modules in the third year of training (except for placement modules and the intermediate integrated project). It is positive if: the number of compulsory modules not completed successfully is not greater than the failure threshold calculated at the time of the final review; the number of compulsory modules not completed successfully in vocational training is lower than or equal to the failure threshold calculated at the time of the final review; all the fundamental modules have been completed successfully (except for one single fundamental module on the syllabus for the second half-year; this module must be retaken during the following year).

FINAL REVIEW

The final review covers all the compulsory modules in the third and fourth years of training (except for a placement module and the intermediate integrated project). It is successful if: at least 90% of the compulsory modules have been completed successfully; at least 90% of the compulsory modules in vocational education have been completed successfully; no complementary module has been marked at less than 20; the fundamental modules have been completed successfully (except for a single placement module). A successful final review allows the student to take part in the final integrated project (projet intégré final - PIF).
